

Assembly of Quick Release-belt to SeaLife Rescue Pro 50

1: Cow-tail 2: Quick release-belt
3: Loose belt loops

Place the lifejacket with the back side facing up. Put the belt through the first belt loop.

Put the belt through the next belt loop

Put the belt through the D-ring on the cow-tail and attach it to the velcro patch

Place the belt through the first belt loop on the right side

... and the second belt loop on the right side. Turn the lifejacket front side facing up.

Pull out the other end of the belt from the backside of the lifejacket

Put the belt through the right opening in the metal buckle.

... and down again through the other opening in the metal buckle

HANSEN
PROTECTION

Assembly of Quick Release-belt to SeaLife Rescue Pro 50

Tighten the belt so that it is tight and comfortable

Put the belt trough the «Quick Release» belt lock

Lock the belt by pressing down the lid with the yellow release puller on

Thread the loose belt loop through the loop on the lifejacket as seen in the picture

Thread the belt loop over the belt and down through the loop under

The belt loop is correctly assembled. Repeat the same operation on the opposite side

The belt loop correctly assembled on the opposite side

Belt correctly assembled. The belt loops is assembled to ensure that the QR-belt stays in place.